The Power of a Word.
A word, in itself considered, how trifling it is! merely a combination of articulate sounds, a few little letters united. Trifling and unimportant indeed, it may appear, but when we consider its effect and influence, who can estimate the good or evil, often attendant upon it. Our words are the revealers of our thoughts, and it is by means of them that we can communicate to each other our desires and feelings, which must otherwise remain forever locked in the store-house of the mind. We, as members of the same human family, are alike partakers of the sorrow and suffering attendant upon our race in consequence of sin; and how wretched would be our condition were it not for the power we have of sympathizing with, and consoling each other. Behold, at a distance, that lonely widow, or that friendless orphan depressed in spirits. Her sun of prosperity is overcast with clouds, and she is bemoaning her wretched fate, with no eye to pity, and no heart to feel for her. In vain she seeks for one ray of hope to illumine her benighted pathway. Go to her in an affectionate and friendly manner; speak one word of condolence or sympathy in her listening ear, and see how her worn countenance brightens as she acknowledges your kindness, and implores the richest of Heaven's blessings to rest upon your head. One word of confidence and affection spoken in the family circle, among associates, may strengthen the ties of friendship, arouse the tender and generous feelings of the heart, and awaken a train of thought that will never cease to flow. One word of truth, spoken in sincerity, may wing its way to a reflective and active mind, and there implant the seeds of Christianity, instil correct and virtuous principles; eradicate vice, arouse all the nobler energies of the soul, and exert an influence that will be felt, even to the end of time. On the other hand, a malignant word may create a moral malady, which will extend far and wide, and exert its baneful influence, long after the tongue that uttered it, is silent in the grave. One word of ill-will, one hasty word spoken in an unguarded moment to a friend, may deeply wound the heart of affection, and although the feelings which prompted it may be as transient as thought, it may rankle long as a poisoned arrow in the breast of that friend.

UNMARRIED WOMEN.—Why is it that there are so many unmarried females among us? Females, too, of the right age, and all the qualifications requisite for the marriage state—females capable of making any reasonable man happy. Why is it that they remain, year after year, in a single state? Surely the fault cannot be theirs. There are young men enough to give all the young women husbands, to support them well, and help them to bring up and educate a family, if they would set about the affair in right good earnest. Why don't they do it? They are fearful of changing their situations lest poverty come upon them, or they get taken in by those who are full of love and smiles at present, and cross and tyrannical when their objects are secured. The first objection vanishes when the true state of the case is known. A good wife is an assistant instead of an incumbrance. A man who can barely support himself, while leading a single life, will more than support himself and wife in the married state. This is seen by facts of every day occurrence. The latter objection has no foundation. Because a few men live unhappily in the married state, it is no reason that every one will; and, generally, the fault lies with the husband. We will be bound to say it, if a young man strives for happiness and peace at home, he will assuredly obtain them; but if he departs from his duty, he cannot expect anything but sorrow.

Let our young men, who are old enough to form connection, and who can work for a living, see to it that the young women are furnished with husbands. Something must be wrong, when so many of both sexes are being strangers to each other—moping away existence, when they might do good and be happy. What say you, reader? Will you put off duty? Shall we preach to you in vain?

A couple of ruffians went into the store of Mr. Jacob Klopstock, of Bridgeport, and after helping themselves to cigars, were about to walk off without paying. Mr. Klopstock detained them, and went for an officer. The officer arrested and imprisoned both of them, but shortly afterwards came back, and taking Mr. Klopstock with him told him he must set tle with the two ruffians or be locked up himself. On Klopstock's refusal to treat with the fellows, he was locked up, and held in durance, until some one threatened the officer with a prosecution. It was rather a high handed proceeding.

"You never heard tell of my molasses candy adventure, did you, squire?" said Stacpole to me one day, when I called at his house to take the census of his family. I shook my head, and he proceeded: "I speculate it was rather a wonderful affair, and if Sally there would tell it, you would appreciate it, certain. I was courtin' Sally at that time, and was in love up to my eyes; but her old daddy was opposed to me, out and out. And he was a stupendous man—the crossiest, ugliest old man that ever wore spectacles; and I've often wondered how Sally could be such a charming little creature, with such a crusty old fellow for a father. She was a magnum bonum gal sure, at that time; a little faded now, you see; but that is to be expected—beauty is but knee deep, but ugliness goes to the bone. "Well, one day I went to town and bought a whole heap of fancy doings, ribbons, beads, goose grease for the hair, et cetera and so forth. I was determined to coax her up, and putting my purchases snugly in a bundle, I locomoted towards her daddy's house, true as a rifle. "It was rather late when I arriv, and old Scragg was bilin' some molasses candy for Sally to peddle next day—there being a show—Sally and her mother having retired.

"The fust thing I done, however, after enterin', and old Scraggs had stared at me a few, was to sit right down in a pan of hot molasses he'd put on a cheer to cool, which made me jump up and howl amazin'. Gingerbread! how it burnt. But as he didn't see the accident, I squatted on Sally's band-box which contained her Sunday bonnet—not noticin'—and went to rubbin' like sixty-six. "Well, arter I sot there a spell, groanin' for myself, and wonderin' how much damage I had done, the old man gave me another such a terrific look, and said: "Sam Stacpole, what have you come here arter—say?" "Mr. Scraggs, said I, not darin, to stir for fear he would diskiver my predicament, I have come here on very important business. (Oh, Lordy! how that merlasses smarted!) and if you'll just keep your benazer down about five minutes I'll endeavour to inform you with that degree of accuracy that I'm so preminent and so conspicuously developed.

"The old fellow didn't understand that ar powerful language, and in course did not say nothing, so I kept it as easy as I possibly could, and went on:

"Perhaps, sas I, you've noticed that I have been payin' numerous attentions to your daughter, and am gratified to state with infinite popularity. Now, if you will give Sally to me, I will vote for you for Governor, and leave my country if you ain't elected.

"Well, after I'd delivered myself in that ar benevolent style, what do you think the old codger's reply was? Why, instead of sayin', take Sally, and welcome, he actually pointed to the door, and told me to scatter. I vow I got out of patience then, sure, and didn't care what occurred—if Sally's bonnet was smashed.

"Mr. Scraggs, ses I, I should be very happy to oblige you, but the fact is I sat down right here and can't leave nohow unless you cut a hole in my trowsers.

"When the old man seed how I was stuck fast as I set, he just caught up the whole pot full of hot candy off the fire, and emptied it all over my head and shoulders, true as I'm alive. Jehu! how the stuff made me covert and holler! But I was so mad, that I grabbed a great gob and let him have it, biff!—right 'tween the eyes.

"There, take that, sas I, you old flapped piece of deformity! and then I started for the door—direct; I just got it open, ready to dart, when old Mrs. Scraggs burst into a loud laugh, and Sally spoke for the fust time.

"Sam Stacpole, ses she, hold! My bonnet and your pantalons are annexed!" "Je-rusalem! ses I, and I leaped. I must have been awtul skeered, for I landed at least twenty feet from the house, and ran like prairie fire. I never looked behind me till next day, when I did, the kivor of the band-box was stickin' fast to my trowsers!

"That was my merlasses candy adventure Squire, and right hot work it was. But I married Sally at last, and now you can reckon up the family on your sinus, soon as you please.

SAXE—ON SAXE.
The following poetical correspondence explains itself, and tells those who did not know before how to speak the name of the Vermont poet:—
TO JOHN G. SAXE.

As poets are supposed to be
A sort of public property,
Whom no amount of impudence
Can ever give the least offence,
Whom the dear people at their ease
May cuss, or discuss as they please,
And who when damned from every quarter,
Must grin and bear it like a martyr;
I say as they're supposed to be
To every snob and rustic free
To insult, consult, or abuse,
Applaud, condemn, as they may choose:
I've taken liberty to write
And beg you for a ray of light
Upon the subject of your name;
For you must know though Mistress Fame
Takes pains to everywhere announce it
The jade don't know how to pronounce it;
Which causes wrangles loud and long
About the favorite son of song;
'Till over Sax-e, Sax-es, and Sax
Quite wroth the fierce disputants wax.
An awful clamor there has been;
I've fought for Saxe through thick and thin.
And argued many a weary bout,
Until my temper quite gave out,
And I resolved upon the spot,
To know fit were Saxe or not,
And hold my judgement in obedience,
Until the post should make conveyance,
And I from your own self had heard,
How to pronounce the doubtful word,
So if you're pleased to let me know,
I shall in future have to show
An argument of knock down force,
And not be talking till I'm hoarse.
If not, I'll let them wrangle on
And henceforth call you simply John.

THE ANSWER.
The man who speaks of Sax as Sax-e,
Of course would call an axe an ax-e;
Pray tell your friend, good Mistress Fame,
(I've no acquaintance with the dame.)
If she should wish to use my name,
To make the word a rhyme to axe,
Knacks, whacks, or cracks, or even smacks,
And call me plainly John G. Saxe.

A REMISENCE OF WASHINGTON IRVING.
—Mr. Irving himself once saw General Washington. He said there was some celebration going on in the city of New York, and the General was there to participate in the ceremony. "My nurse," continued Mr. Irving, "a good old Scotch woman, was very anxious for me to see him, and held me up in her arms as he rode past. This, however, did not satisfy her; so, the next day, when walking with me in Broadway, she espied him in a shop; she seized my hand, and darting in, exclaimed, in her bland Scotch: "Please your Ex ellency, here's a bairn that's called after ye!" General Washington then turned his benevolent face full upon me, smiled, laid his hand upon my head, and gave me his blessing, which added Mr. Irving, earnestly, "I have reason to believe has attended me through life. I was but five years old, yet I can feel that hand even now."

In Columbus, during the great tribulation of the Legislature which ended in the election of George E. Pugh to the U. S. Senate, many free suppers' drinks, &c., were given at the expense of the different candidates for the Senatorship. One evening there were assembled in the private parlor of one of the candidates, several of his friends, who had met to play poker and discuss his cigars, chances and liquor. As the wine became low, his friends became high and more sanguine of success, and the candidate could, therefore, do nothing less than order another half dozen. He accordingly rang. The bell was answered by a keen looking ten year old boy, whom the candidate ordered to bring half a dozen Catawba.

"Please to write it on a card," said the boy.

"Go along and get the liquor," said the candidate, proceeding to shuffle the pasteboards, "I am busy."

"I'd rather you'd write an order on a card," said the boy.

"Why can you not get it without an order?" said the candidate, as he dealt three all round.

"Well the fact is, Judge," said the boy. "I'm a good deal like you—a pretty hard nut, and they won't believe me at the bar." Amid terrific yells of laughter, the candidate seized a pencil, and wrote on the deuce of spades an order for a full dozen. It is evident that the boy had an eye to the Pugh-ter.

WHEN "MOUNTAIN DEW" MAY BE TAKEN MEDICINALLY.—After goose, or duck, or pork, Irish stew, or any delicacy of the season, into which onions may have seasonably entered.

Invariably after salmon.

When there is any washing being done at home.

When the painters are in the house.

When a person feels faint, and doesn't know what is the matter with him.

When a friend turns up after an absence of several years, or when you are parting with a friend whom you do not expect to see for several years.

When a person has the toothache.

When a person has lost at cards, or when a person has come into a large property.

When a person has met with a great misfortune, or made a tremendous bargain.

When a person has quarrelled, and when a reconciliation has taken place.

When a person is on a sea voyage, or goes out between the act of a five act tragedy, or before ascending in a balloon, or after coming off the jury of a coroner's inquest, or when you are sitting up for your wife, or when a friend drops in to smoke a cigar; and, in fact upon all suitable occasions of sadness or merriment, when a person feels rather low, or feels in very high spirits.

A CHILD'S ANSWER.—A father once said playfully to his little daughter, a child of five years, "Mary, you are not good for anything."

"Yes, I am, dear father," replied she, looking thoughtfully and tenderly into his face.

"Why, what are you good for, pray tell me my dear?"

"I am good to love you, father," replied she, at the same time throwing her tiny arms around his neck, and giving him a kiss of unutterable affection.

Blessed child! may your life be an expression of that early-felt instinct of love. The highest good you or any other mortal can confer, is, to live in the full exercise of your affection.

HOME.—Love watches over the cradle of the infant, over the couch of the aged, over the welfare and comfort of each and all. To be happy, man retires from his out door world to his home. In the household circle the troubled heart finds consolation—the disturbed finds rest, the joyous finds itself in its true element. Pious souls, when they speak say that they go home. Their longing for Heaven is to them a home-sickness. Jesus also represented the abode of eternal happiness under the picture of a home, a father's house. Does not this tell us that the earthly home is appointed to be a picture of Heaven and a foretaste of that higher, happier, holier, eternal home?

AFFECTION.—It is a misfortune to society and much to be deplored, that many persons are so strangely inclined and do so frequently resort to various species of affection; ashamed of their own manners, endeavoring to imitate those more praiseworthy than themselves. Foolish and inconsiderate indeed they are, to spend their time and money in fashioning or themselves an unnatural and by no means a pleasing behaviour! If they would cultivate as assiduously their minds and the traits of character which nature has given them, then indeed they would be worthy of respect and admiration. Many are lured on by the hope, that affection will give them a wider influence, but such are in pursuit of a delusive phantom, for their looks, smiles, words and movements, all betray their origin. Artificial words and smiles will not touch the heart; they spring from another source, and will not their take effect! To sensible persons, affected manners can but appear ridiculous, for if they please at all, 'tis only the vulgar around without the capacity of appreciating the superiority of nature to art. In view of these, who would make use of affectation.

First class in geography stand up. Bill Toots, what's a cape? A thing mother wears over her shoulders. What's plain? A tool used by carpenters for smoothing boards. What's a desert? Its goodies is to die. That will do, Bill; I will give you a touch of some goodies after school.

Mrs. Partington says that nothing despises her so much as to see people who profess to expect salvation, go to church without their purses when a recollection is to be taken.

East Haddam Journal.

SATURDAY MORNING FEBRUARY 11.

In the hurry of putting our outside to press, we omitted to change the date and number, which should read Feb. 11, and No. 45.

CONGRESS.—The wise men of the country have at last got to work. The speaker, Mr. Pennington, is a popular man both north and south, with the exception of a few who belong to what may be termed a "more talk than cider" party, and who are of about as much use to the country as the old Farmington canal.

John W. Forney, of Pennsylvania, was chosen Clerk of the House on Friday, and Henry W. Hoffman was chosen sergeant-at-arms on the same day. From present appearances, the Union will "make a live of it" through the winter.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Florida, Hadlyme. Instead of publishing your "Lines on a cup formed from a skull," we will refer our readers to the 192d page of Byron's Works, where the original appears. Did you suppose we should be so green as to think your lines were original with you? It is a good poem, surely, but you are entitled to no credit for it.

Clarale, Haddam.—We must decline your production on "Slander." We have already treated on that subject enough of late. Your piece has not sufficient merit to give it rank above the many others which lie in our drawer with the superscription "declined."

Eunice, Chester.—Why don't we publish it? Because we have had a plenty of other matter, and we have given you space so many times that you have no right to complain. However, we rather like your "Woodchuck's Soliloquy," and intend to publish it by and by. Don't be in a fret. Let the old Woodchuck think over his troubles once more; it won't hurt him.

Lottie Darling.—Write to us again, for we are always glad to see you and to hear from you. If your lines do not appear in due time it will not be for a lack of appreciation. Have you heard from Minnie, lately? We think she is a jewel, anyhow.

The Ladies connected with the St. Stephen's Church, held their annual festival and fair on Thursday evening, 9th inst. A large number were present. The hall was very tastefully arranged, and well filled with elegant specimens of needle-work, and other dry goods, which the ladies successfully coaxed the gentlemen into buying. We understand $153 profits were realized. A good evening's work.

FEBRUARY TWENTY-SECOND.—As this eventful day is drawing near, many are the enquiries as to what's going to be done. To answer each and all in the shortest manner possible, we will inform our readers that the Gelston House will be the centre of attraction on that evening. The programme of exercises we believe is not fully made up, but that there will be an entertainment worthy the house and mine host Mr. Selden, all may rest assured.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.—The Rainbow, a semi-occasional paper, published at Middletown is received. If its proprietor would show as good taste and manifest the same gentlemanly deportment in his paper that he exercises behind his counter, it would be quite readable. As it is, we should not advise any one to "take it to the light."

DEATH OF JUDGE INGERSOLL.—Judge Charles J. Ingersoll, of New Haven, died at his residence in that city on Wednesday evening last, of rheumatism of the stomach. He was the U. S. Judge for this District, and assistant Judge in the District and Circuit Courts of Southern New York. He was appointed Clerk of the United States Court for this district in 1819, and filled the place for nearly thirty years. He received the appointment of Judge from President Pierce.

At the annual meeting of stockholders of the Hartford and New York Steamboat Company, held in Hartford on Wednesday; the following named gentlemen were chosen directors: Elisha T. Smith, Elias Lewis, Geo. E. Goodspeed, Charles Benton, Charles H. Northern.

At a subsequent meeting of the directors Elisha T. Smith was re-elected President, Charles Benton was chosen Secretary, and D. A. Mills, Agent.

ANOTHER DONATION.—The friends and cashiers of Rev. F. A. Brown of Haddam Neck are to make him a donation visit on the afternoon and evening of Tuesday next. Let's all go.

FOOLISH SPECULATION.—We learn from the Sentinel that a young man named Oliver Denison, belonging in Essex, where he has a mother and sister now residing, recently went to Alabama, for the purpose of pursuing the machinist trade. After being there a short time, he conceived the idea of enticing a slave away, under the pretence of freeing him, but instead of giving him his liberty, took him to New Orleans and sold him for $1000, for which offence he has just received a sentence of fifteen years imprisonment in the State prison. The Sentinel condoles the relatives, and in the same breath is afraid the free press of the north will construe this sad affair into a sort of proscription for opinion's sake.

STEVENS FOUND GUILTY.—The trial of Stevens was concluded at Charlestown, Va, on Saturday the 4th. No new evidence was adduced. The case was submitted to the jury at 4 o'clock and in fifteen minutes they brought in a verdict of guilty. Stevens received the verdict with perfect indifference and smiled at the announcement.

Hazlett, the last of the rioters, was put on trial, on Monday last. He was the last one arrested, and his complicity in the affair was never acknowledged by any of his fellow prisoners. A large number of witnesses were summoned by the Government to prove his identity.

Coppice, a brother to the one executed with Cook, and who fled to Canada, has returned to Iowa, and a requisition has been sent to the Governor of that State, for his delivery to the Virginia authorities, but the Governor refused to surrender him, owing to some informalities in the requisition.

The Grand Jury have also indicted Owen Brown, Francis J. Merriam, and Jeremiah Anderson, charging them with the same offence for which the others have suffered. The above parties are not as yet under arrest.

Mr. Editor.—Doubtless many persons have been grieved that "Singer's Sewing Machines" at Sillimanville should be charged with such productions as have been attributed to them by "Josephine Johnson." I do not know that the manufacturers of said machine will be likely to suffer in consequence of such machine poetry or that Sillimanville will settle any lower among the hills because of Josephine's feigned residence there—but one thing I do know and am bound to testify of—those sewing machines are capable of making a shining loaf of cake. At the donation at my house, in the centre of the table, stood a "pyramid." Its snow white sides were surrounded with a wreath, and its summit crowned with a bouquet of flowers. Most prominent, were fifty-two pieces of shining silver—the value of six dollars.

Around the central loaf was a modest yet legible inscription which without translation reads: "The Ladies of Silliman's Shop, Feb. 1st, 1860."

Tradition says that the "Sewing Machines" finished that loaf of cake in the dying moments of Jan. 31st, 1860. Better business than making poetry. And it is to be hoped that they may never turn out anything worse. Truly Yours, H. W. CONANT. Moodus Feb 7th. 1860.

THE FIREMEN'S CONCERT AND BALL AT MIDDLETOWN.—The 1st annual ball of the Middletown Fire Department was held at McDonough Hall on Thursday, 9th inst., and was a perfect success. We understand that nearly four hundred tickets were sold, and that everything passed off finely and satisfactorily to every one present. The eve preceding the ball, a grand concert by the well known Dodworth's Band was given at the same hall, with an audience of from seven to eight hundred persons. We are pleased to hear of this demonstration, for the Middle-town Firemen are a noble set of fellows, and worthy the respect shown them by the Middletown public on this interesting occasion. We trust the second annual may be as successful as the first. Boys, that was doing it with a "tiger."

Van Wert, of the Stillwater bogus bank of Winstead notoriety, was arrested Friday evening at Southwick, Mass., for passing counterfeit $3's on the Wrentham Bank at three of four different places. He was found in bed with a woman not his wife, and there were $33 in $3 bills on the Hartford Bank, all of which are supposed to be counterfeit, found in his pocket.

NEW ADVERTISEMENT.—Our friend Dr. Patterson is round once more, and is stopping at his old quarters, the Champion House. See his card.

By reference to another column, will be found the advertisement and card of H. Thompson, who wishes our readers to understand that he can furnish them with goods in his line till the first of April next at wonderfully low prices. Give him a call.

Those who can keep hotel will do well to read the advertisement of Watrous B. Smith, who offers to lease the Machinodous House for one or five years.

Wm. H. Tracy is to sell on Monday Feb 20th at public auction, live stock, household furniture, and farming tools. Auction-goers will please make a mem.

Late European advices announce the death of Capt. Harrison, commander of the Great Eastern, by drowning. He was on his way to the Great Eastern, which lay in Southampton harbor, when a sudden gale struck the boat which was conveying him to his mammoth ship and capsized. The London Times speaks of him as being the perfect type of an English sailor, and adds that his loss to the Great Eastern is irreparable.

A NEW DIME PIECE.—A new dime piece has been issued from the mint. It differs from the old coinage in some respects. The Goddess of Liberty is in a sitting position, as on the old coin, but instead of the encircling stars there are the words "United States of America." The words "One Dime," on the other side of the coin, are in a wreath of cereals, instead of the old-fashioned wreath of leaves.

ALLEGED MURDER.—Joel Green, of Rocky Hill, was arrested Monday upon a charge of murder. The facts which transpired at the enquiry court of the Grand Jurors at Rocky Hill, on Tuesday last, are that Jane Thrall was an inmate of Green's family the past summer, and that the parties had been on terms of intimacy. Miss Thrall died on the 12th of September under circumstances which appeared suspicious, and after her burial was disinterred. A post mortem examination, made by three physicians of this city, showed that the womb had sustained three punctures—the effect of an attempt at abortion. The Grand Juror have such facts in their possession as they believe warrant the arrest of Green. His examination takes place Friday.—Courant.

Everybody is of course familiar with the Morgan disappearance. A somewhat similar occurrence is now exciting the minds of the citizens of Zanesville, Ohio. The Aurora, not long since, published what purported to be a full exposure of the mode of initiation, signs, secrets and mysteries of the Sons of Malta, which was extensively copied. The exposure was considered a good joke. The Sandusky Register says it has assumed a serious aspect when it was discovered that one Curtis was the author, and that he had suddenly and mysteriously disappeared. Suspicion pointed at once to the Sons of Malta, and it is feared that unless the mystery which enshrouds the case is cleared up, the citizens will rise en masse against the Order.

REMARKABLE PRESENTMENT.—The St. Louis Republican tells the story of a wonderful case of presentment or clairvoyance, that occurred at Washington twenty years ago. Dr. Linn, senator from Missouri, was sick at his lodgings. He and Mrs. Linn were invited to a dinner party, and it being impossible for him to go, he persuaded Mrs. Linn to go, while Gen. Jones should spend the evening with him. While at table Mrs. Linn was affected with a vague uneasiness about her husband, and though she tried to argue away her fears, they so grew upon her that she felt she must leave the table and return home. Silas Wright and Gen. Macomb, who sat near her, endeavored to calm her fears, but without success, and at her request they apologized to the host and escorted her to her residence. When she entered her husband's chamber she found it filled with a dense smoke. The bed clothes were on fire, the feathers were burning with a bright glow, and her husband was on the bed insensible. Without calling for help she succeeded in putting out the fire, her own clothes being nearly burnt off in the attempt, and got her husband from the bed. It was full half an hour before he became conscious, and the physician declared that he must have died of suffocation in a few minutes if he had not been discovered. It was an hour and a half after Mrs. Linn began to feel alarmed about her husband before she reached his bedside, and it seems hardly probable that the fire was burning all that time. The case was either a remarkable presentment or a remarkable coincidence.

The community of New Milford and vicinity are very much exercised over a transaction which transpired last week. It seems that a gentleman from Danbury by the name of Banks came to New Milford to purchase cattle, and, according to his story, as he was passing through a piece of woods about two miles north of New Milford, on the road to Merryall, and coming to the latter place, his horse was seized by a man who rushed from the bushes, and at the same time received a violent blow on the head which rendered him insensible. His pockets were rifled, and money to the amount of $200 or $300 taken. He was found lying on the bottom of his wagon, covered up with the buffalo robe. It is supposed by some that after he was robbed he was placed in the wagon and the horse sent on, thinking that he would be upset, and thus distract suspicion; while others think the whole affair is a dodge on the part of Banks. Four persons were arrested on Friday last but were discharged.

Some of the Massachusetts papers have it that a Connecticut yankee is now training himself to walk on a wire, and that next summer he intends to cross the Niagara on a tight wire, with two men hanging to his hair—one on each side. Well, perhaps it's so; Connecticut can do most anything.

A wedding took place in Oxford, Wisconsin, a few days since, and soon after the knot was tied the bride was taken off by a neighbor to sit up with a sick person. The bridegroom next morning applied to a justice to have himself unmarried, but the functionary informed him the thing could not be did.

A teacher of vocal music asked an old lady "if her grandson had an ear for music?" "Waal," said the old lady, "I really don't know; wont you take a cardle and look."

DIED In Millington, of consumption, A. C. Arnold, aged 20. Calm and peaceful as the river, Past her short and loving years, Loving, trusting, hoping ever, Jesus banished all her fears. When I eath's angel hovered o'er her, Sweet and calm she bade him come, For death had for her no terror, And the grave had lost its gloom.

D. W. PATTERSON, DENTIST, WILL BE AT THE CHAMPION HOUSE DURING THE MONTH OF FEBRUARY.

REDUCTION IN PRICES. "Quick Sales, Cash Down & No Profits." Harnesses Selling of at Prices almost below cost.

The undersigned would respectfully inform the citizens of East Ham and vicinity, that he will make and sell Harnesses at unusually low prices for four months. He is now selling good Harnesses three dollars cheaper than any other concern for the same style and quality, plain harnesses in the same proportion, he therefore invites all those in want of work in his line of business, to avail themselves of the present opportunity to hand in their orders and get supplied at once, as this is an opportunity to save money, that is seldom offered in his line of business. In all cases of sales, perfect satisfaction warranted as to price and quality. The trimmings, Leather, Work, &c. warranted to be what they are represented. The business will be conducted strictly on the cash system. All kinds of Job Work pertaining to the business done at low rates.

A CARD.—The undersigned would respectfully return his sincere thanks for the liberal patronage received during the past three years, and trusts by strict attention to business, and the low price cash system will be sufficient to ensure a larger patronage. Special Notice. McKesson's Liniment—the great external remedy for either Man or Beast, still continues at the head of the list in the great Medical Catalogue—selling more readily and relieving more suffering than all other remedies combined. Certificates of cures are daily received from persons in various sections of the country, who have been cured or benefited by the use of the greatest and best of all external remedies. The sale continues unparalleled, as a few of the orders for the past week will show. Read the following from Spencer & Clark, proprietors of the principal Drug and Medicine Store in the State. NEW HAVEN, Jan 24th, 1860.

MR. J. E. SELDEN.—Dear Sir:—We must have 18 Doz. of the $1, or quart size Liniment, on receipt of this without fail. Yours truly, SPENCER & CLARK.

Another. West Woodstock, Conn., Jan. 21st, 1860. J. E. SELDEN:—Dear Sir:—I have sold the last bottle of the last invoice of Liniment and can sell a plenty more.—Send new supply immediately. Respectfully, R. R. RICH.

Still another which speaks the truth as plain as ABC. Chicago, Ill. Jan. 19, 1860.

Jos. E. SELDEN: Dear Sir:—Enclosed find $25 (Twenty-Five Dollars) the value of which you will please send us in your McKesson's Liniment. All of the first consignment is gone. We find it very valuable both for man and beast. It has cured myself of a weak ankle caused by frequent sprains, and has produced other remarkable cures on different persons. We find it almost invaluable as an internal remedy in cases of cholera—pains in the stomach, bowels &c. Please send the Liniment by express, immediately on receipt of this, as we are entirely out of it. Yours truly, W. & A. B. COOK, & Co. perabc.

Accompanying the above order were certificates of cures, &c., Suffield, Conn. Jan. 15th, 1860.

J. E. SELDEN: Dear Sir:—Please send to us a good supply, assorted sizes of your Liniment, as soon as possible, and oblige yours &c. LOOMIS & Co. Painted Post N. Y. Jan. 17th, 1860.

J. E. SELDEN, Esq: Dear Sir:—I am entirely out of the Liniment.—Please send a supply at your earliest convenience.—It sells rapidly and gives universal satisfaction. Yours &c. W. C. HARDENBURGH. We might enumerate scores of similar orders and testimonials, but space will not admit. McKesson's Liniment is selling by Druggists, Merchants and Dealers in nearly every city, town and village throughout the Union. PRINCIPAL DEPOTS. New York, 15 Park Row. " " 11 Gold Street. Desirable Property For Sale.
 The farm formerly occupied by Nathaniel Chapman (deceased) containing about 40 acres of land is now offered for sale.
 Said farm consists of Mowing, Plow, Pasture and Wood Land, of about equal proportions, and in a good state of cultivation. It is well watered by two never failing streams passing through it.
 There is also on the farm, a large orchard of young fruit trees, all grafted fruit of the choicest kinds, which produces abundantly. The buildings consist of a good size two-story House, Ell, Wood and Wagon House, Barn, &c., all in good repair and well calculated for convenience.
 Said farm is situated about 1/2 of a mile from the village of Moodus, which affords a good market for all kinds of produce. A part of the purchase money can remain on mortgage for a term of years. Possession given first of April next.

Come my muse and help us sing,
 About the Dry Goods which we bring;
 Fresh from market neat and cheap,
 And this town cannot be beat.
 We will not sing of Boots and Shoes.
 Let Ensign do it if he choose,
 But still we keep 'em for the Ladies,
 And we'll bet a pair that he can't beat us.
 A lot of SHAWLS we've just received,
 As rich and nice as e'er perceived
 By Maid, or Queen, or Princess,
 And as the Autumn winds are sighing,
 And stral blasts around us flying,
 Come up, and give us again a call,
 And buy a nice all Wollen Shawl,
 They are just the thing for fall.
 Of Skeleton Skirts we've very little to say,
 For we don't need to puff them in any such way.
 Very strange it may seem that the fellow can thrive,
 Selling the best 20 spring for one forty-five.
 In rich Black Silks our stock is neat,
 Our assortment good and always complete,
 We keep those silks of such renown.
 The real "Red Ficket," "the English Crown."
 Our counters are loaded with pretty DeLaines,
 Our shelves are crowded with rich Counterpanes,
 Tell all your friends, and tell them to tell,
 All the goods, and more we have to sell,
 We've many great bargains from auction this fall,
 And we want to give some of the best to you all,

REMEMBER
It is Ensign Himself!!
The man who undersells them all, who makes this statement.

Our Poem to-day is entitled "SPORTING NEWS." Our friends will observe that no pains or expense has been spared in bringing the most distant counties before them

SPORTING NEWS.
The Chinese Ambassador, so the tale goes, Has just had a great boxing bout; At Pekin, the Chinese have boxed him up tight, To prevent him from pekin about.

Yes, we are booting all creation, at a small expense, and shoeing up the multitude BY THOUSANDS.

From England we learn that Tom Sayers has been out, With Brattle to have a few rounds; Although Sayers was the victor, the papers all say, He received at least two hundred pounds; They speak of the champion's "terrible right." And the spikes that were in Brattle's shoe; But we fear not "the right," and care naught for the spike, For Ensign has rights and lefts too.

Yes, rights and lefts of every variety, splendid high heel rights and lefts, rights and lefts without heels, all

SELLING OFF CHEAP.
The Canadians grumble, and justly complain Of the visits of States "men of might," Who not only favor the use of free soil, But also enjoy a free fight.

Messrs. Kelly and Price have just made them a call, The result we presume you all know; While in Boston the Price stock is now looking up, At Ensign's the prices are low.

Yes—15 or 20 per cent, lower than any other establishment. We sell everything low at Ensigns Boot & Shoe Emporium.

"Irrepressible," Seward would say— But Ensign has gallantly fought the good fight. And stands at the head at this day. Boots, Gaiters and Shoes, and Rubbers, all kinds, Will be sold very cheap for "the gelt"; The public are hereby invited to call And examine the champion's belt.

Our next Poem will be entitled "Occupations of the Poets." It would have appeared to-day, but for the exciting news from China and elsewhere, which we hasten to make known.

Respectfully, the public's old favorite, S. A. ENSIGN.

FURNITURE!!

THE subscriber would respectfully announce that he is receiving FURNITURE almost every week from one of the largest wholesale establishments in New York that deals wholly in Rose Wood, Mahogany and Black Walnut Furniture. They say in their price-list that their Catalogue of Goods is made up and Prices carried out with a view of doing wholly a cash business and at so small advance from cost that they cannot afford to credit any one, and knowing as I do that some of the closest cash buyers in the State purchase of the same house and from the same price list, I do not hesitate to say that I can sell as good for as little money as any other man in the State Those who are in want of a PARLOR SUITE, or any part thereof, are respectfully invited to call and examine my assortment as I am sure they cannot possibly do better than to purchase of me.

It is well known by almost every one that the Furniture business has undergone a great change within a few years in regard to the mode of manufacturing. Instead of each retail dealer manufacturing his work, as formerly, New York and Boston furnish Connecticut with almost all her parlor furniture from the best Rosewood suites down to the cheapest article that can possibly be got up. Different parts of Massachusetts are noted for their Bedstead and Chair factories from which Connecticut is supplied, and from which the proprietor of the Furniture Warerooms at Goodspeed's Landing will endeavor to keep well supplied, and in addition to Furniture of all sorts, sizes, and descriptions, can be found at all times a good assortment of which the subscriber offers for sale lower than the same quality of goods can be bought at any other establishment in the State. One Price—Terms Cash—and no grumbling. SAMUEL COOK. Goodspeed's Landing, East Haddam.

ENSIGN, THE GREATEST LIVING HUMBUG,

PARKER & WARD, THE PEOPLE'S FAVORITES,

ARE altogether two different names. Ensign is noted for his loud pretensions. While PARKER & WARD are known by their really low prices on

BOOTS AND SHOES.

we defy Ensign or his tribe to compete with us in prices.

It is startling "but nevertheless true that we do sell Ladies Kid Slips at 25 cts. a pair, and Women's Cloth Congress Gaiters at 58 cts. a pair.

ENSIGN HAS HAD HIS DAY,

PARKER & WARD, NOW TAKE THE LEAD,

and will continue to do so.

We have just received a large and magnificent stock of Hats, Caps, Boots and Shoes, and we will sell them at prices which will astonish you.

CITIZENS OF EAST HADDAM, ATTENTION, YOUR LITTLE COUNTRY SHOE STORES ARE NOWHERE!!!

And why? Simply because we sell more goods in one day than the small concerns sell in a month. They sell as cheap as they can but cannot compete with us in prices.

Give us a call, you shall be well treated and we guarantee that you can more than pay your expenses to Middletown by buying your Hats, Caps, Boots and Shoes here.

Remember the place, PARKER & WARD. 298 Main Street, Middletown, Conn.

ATTWOOD, FIRED off a Pop-Gun, No. 3, last week the discharge did not hurt any one, the powder being of poor quality; he advises the people of Middletown to come down to East Haddam and buy School Books of him, just as though they would.

When Sissons of Moodus can supply the million, Attwood won't stand the ghost of a chance. Attwood says the Middletown people need School Books, perhaps they do, they know where to get them too. PUTNAM of Middletown has supplied them this ten years and intends to for ten years to come, and he also intends to sell lots of Books of all kinds to the East Haddam citizens, including Attwood himself. Now if our friend wants to sell cheap, let him send his orders to Putnam, who will fill them promptly, and at prices that will keep the East Haddam patronage at home. Try it Attwood before you load Pop Gun No. 4.

BOOKS AND STATIONERY, every description can be had of PUTNAM the Middletown Bookseller, cheap for cash or approved credit. Ain't it so? Ask everybody. Middletown, May 13, 1859. 6

Grover & Baker's CELEBRATED FAMILY SEWING MACHINE. NEW STYLES—PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

EXTRA CHARGE OF $5 FOR HEMMERS. These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no re-winding of thread; they Hem, Fell, Gather and Stitch in a superior style, finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand-needle, as is required by other machine. They will do better and cheaper sewing than a seamstress can, even if she works for one cent an hour, and are, unquestionably, the best Machines in the market for family sewing, on account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing—executing either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

As evidence of the unquestioned superiority of their Machines, the GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE COMPANY beg leave to respectfully refer to the following TESTIMONIALS.

"Having had one of Grover & Baker's Machines in my family for nearly a year and a half; I take pleasure in commending it as every way reliable for the purpose for which it is designed—Family Sewing."—Mrs. Joshua Leavitt, wife of Rev. Dr. Leavitt, Editor of N. Y. Independent.

"I confess myself delighted with your Sewing Machine, which has been in my family for many months. It has always been ready for duty, requiring no adjustment, and is easily adapted to every variety of family sewing, by simply changing the spools of thread."—Mrs. Elizabeth Strickland, wife of Rev. Dr. Strickland, Editor of N. Y. Christian Advocate.

"After trying several different good machines, I preferred yours, on account of its simplicity, and the perfect ease with which it is managed, as well as the strength and durability of the seam. After long experience, I feel competent to speak in this manner, and to confidently recommend it for every variety of family sewing."—Mrs. E. B. Spooner, wife of the Editor of Brooklyn Star.

"I have used a GROVER & BAKER Sewing Machine for two years, and have found it adapted to all kinds of family sewing, from Cambric to Broad-cloth. Garments have been worn out without the giving way of a stitch. The Machine is easily kept in order, and easily used."—Mrs. A. B. Whipple, wife of Rev. Geo. Whipple, N. Y.

"Your Sewing Machine has been in use in my family the past two years, and the ladies request me to give you their testimonials to its perfect adaptability, as well as labour-saving qualities in the performance of family and household sewing."—Robert Boorman, New York.

"For several months we have used Grover & Baker's Sewing Machine, and have come to the conclusion that every lady who desires her sewing beautifully and quickly done, would be most fortunate in possessing one of these reliable and indefatigable 'iron needle-women,' whose combined qualities of beauty, strength and simplicity are invaluable."—J. W. Morris, daughter of Gen. Geo. P. Morris, of the Home Journal.

Extract of a letter from Thos. R. Leavitt, Esq., an American gentleman, now resident in Sydney, New South Wales, dated Jan. 12, 1858: "I had a tent made in Melbourne in 1853, in which there were over three thousand yards of sewing done with one of Grover and Baker's Machines, and a single seam of that has stood all the double seams sewed by sailors with a needle and twine."

"If Homer could be called up from his murky shades, he would sing the advent of Grover & Baker as a more benignant miracle of art than was ever Vulcan's smithy. He would denounce midnight shirt-making as 'the direful spring of woes unnumbered.'"—Prof. North.

"I take pleasure in saying that the Grover & Baker Sewing Machines have more than sustained my expectation. After trying and returning others, I have three of them in operation in my different places, and, after four years' trial, have no fault to find."—J. H. Hammond, Senator of South Carolina.

"My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take much pleasure in recommending it to the public."—J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.

"It is a beautiful thing, and puts everybody into an excitement of good humor. Were I a Catholic, I should insist upon Saints Grover & Baker having an eternal holiday in commemoration of their good deeds for humanity."—Cassius M. Clag.

"I think it by far the best patent in use. This machine can be adapted from the finest cambric to the heaviest cassimere. It sews faster, stronger, and more beautifully than any one can imagine. If mine could not be replaced, money could not buy it."—Mrs. J. G. Brown, Nashville, Tenn.

"It is speedy, very neat, and durable in its work; is easily understood and kept in repair. I earnestly recommend this machine to all my acquaintances and others."—Mrs. M. A. Forrest Memphis, Tenn.

"We find this machine to work to our satisfaction, and with pleasure recommend it to the public, as we believe the Grover & Baker to be the best machine in use."—Deary Brothers, Allisonia Tenn.

"If used exclusively for family purposes, with ordinary care, I will wager they will last one three score years and ten, and not get out of fix."—John Erskine, Nashville, Tenn.

"I have had your machine for several weeks, and am perfectly satisfied that the work it does is the best and most beautiful made."—Maggie Annison, Nashville, Tenn.

"I use my machine upon coats, dress-making, and fine linen stitching, and the work is admirable—far better than the best hand-sewing, or any other machine I have seen."—Lucy B. Thompson, Nashville, Tenn.

"I find the work the strongest and most beautiful I have ever seen, made either by hand or machine, and regard the Grover & Baker Machine is one of the greatest blessings to our sex."—Mrs Taylor, Nashville, Tenn.

DR. C. D. WRIGHT, OF LEESVILLE, CONN. Member of the Analytical School of Medicine continues to apply

Dr. J. Clawson Kelley's Medicine, in the treatment of all Chronic and Acute Diseases, of Men, Women and Children.

The Analytical System, uncompromisingly opposes all mineral medicines, the deleterious practice of bleeding, and other fallacious resources of the old school or regular practice; it has asserted its superiority in the success with which it has been attended, and relies on Vegetable Remedies alone for the accomplishment of satisfactory results in the treatment of disease. In the fulfillment of its mission, the levelled dart of death for a while is turned aside, the sharp pang soothed, the fever's fire allayed, the nerves braced once more: the heart cheered again, and balmy days and soft nights imparted.

A practical proof of its efficient action, will be presented to all, who will call upon Dr. Wright.—Advice free.

Dental Notice.
